Level Three – 2 Comparison Adverbs

Writing with Comparison adverbs
ANSWER SHEET

Okay, now it's your turn to write with adverbs. Let's see if you can remember all of the rules for using adverbs to make comparisons.

Directions: Write a paragraph describing a negative utopia as George Orwell did in his novel, 1984. What do you think is important in a society? What do you think society should avoid? Write a six to eight sentence paragraph about a future society that is NOT what you would want to experience as a warning to all of us. Be sure to include and underline ten adverbs that show comparison (at least one regular, one irregular, and one absolute).

Example: In the year 2050, I was badly in need of a moment's rest. I had been running from the correct behavior advisors for three days. I was more desperately running from them than from any policeman whom I had encountered thus far.
